> Discuss the role of female scientists in society
> Provide role models for young scientists of all genders
> Address how gender issues are handled in the speaker’s home country and university